Call for Editors for the ISHRS Forum

We are looking for two ISHRS physician members to fill the positions of Forum Co-Editors for the term March/April 2008–January/February 2011, which equates to 18 issues. These are uncompensated, volunteer positions, but very rewarding nonetheless!

Interested members should forward an e-mail to ISHRS headquarters office at info@ishrs.org by July 1, 2007, indicating their intent. The Executive Committee will review all candidates and make a determination at their July 2007 meeting. Candidates will be notified in August.

Duties

- To produce 6 issues of the Forum per year within the preestablished time line. The Hair Transplant Forum International is the ISHRS's official publication. It is not peer-reviewed and is considered a newsletter.
- The co-editors may wish to alternate issues as the “lead” editor, thus, serving as the lead for 3 of the 6 issues per year. The “lead” editor can expect to spend 10–20 hours per issue. The non-lead editor can expect to spend 4–6 hours in helping with proof review.
- One of the two editors should serve as the primary point person in regards to submitted articles from the membership. All articles are required to be submitted electronically via e-mail. Staff at ISHRS headquarters provides copy relating to Society announcements.
- Each co-editor writes a “Message from the Editor” on any topic he or she wishes for each issue. Co-editors have the discretion to determine which articles to include.
- The physician co-editors work with the Managing Editor (staff person), Cheryl Duckler, by forwarding the articles to include for a particular issue. The Managing Editor lays out the issue and both co-editors review the proofs, which are e-mailed as a PDF file before signing off to go to print. The printing and mailing is handled by ISHRS staff.

Qualifications

The editor must

1. be an experienced hair transplant surgeon;
2. appreciate the diversity of approach represented by members of the ISHRS and not show favor to any particular “niche” technique;
3. have the ability to write easily and fluently in English;
4. be computer and e-mail literate and not have to rely on a secretary as an intermediary (or work will grind to a halt after office hours, when most of the editors' work is usually done); and
5. be organized and adhere to deadlines.

Send e-mail to vceh@comcast.net and info@ishrs.org by July 1, 2007, to be considered for the position of Forum Co-Editor.
